Chief's Message

The summer is winding down and the school year has started for many of our students. We wish all of our youth a very successful school year. I would like to remind all of the parents of student's kindergarten through twelfth grade to collect the receipts for school related expenses and send them to Mandie Ferguson for our School Supply Reimbursement Program. All of you college students should have already received your scholarship checks, if not please call Mandie to see what is needed for the Tribe to process your payment.

The Peoria Tribe has several projects that will be completed this fall. The Peoria Cemetery parking lot is currently being paved, along with fencing improvements. The Peoria Ridge sewer project will be concluded and turned over to the City of Miami in the next couple of weeks, and the Buffalo Run Hotel remodel project is scheduled to begin in the very near future.

I would like to extend our deepest sympathy for the loss of two great tribal members during these past summer months. Former Chief Don Giles passed away in July after a lengthy battle with cancer, and Kathleen Hamilton passed away last month. Both individuals were very active tribal members and attended almost every Annual Peoria Tribal Council Meeting. Please keep their families in your thoughts and prayers.

As always, if you are in the area, we welcome you to stop by the office for a cup of coffee, our doors are open for a visit.

Special Projects/ NAGPRA
Greetings Tribal Members,

The Peoria Tribe has applied for the Cultural Resource Fund (CRF) through the Mica group, whom administer the funds which the Federal Communications Commission and seven Class I freight rail companies created to address issues relating to Positive Train Control (PTC) Poles erected prior to May 31, 2013. This grant will help to keep the Peoria Schoolhouse maintained and in good general upkeep throughout the year for any kinds of situations which may arise in the future.

Indiana University has submitted a draft notice of inventory completion in regards to three Peoria affiliated collections which will take a few months to come back so that we may move forward with repatriation. Other Native American Graves Repatriation and Protection Act work continues and consultation requests for unaffiliated items are being processed during this time.

On August 25th and 26th the Indiana department of transportation and the Federal Highway Administration will have an Tribal Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) Workshop in an attempt to develop a memorandum between the government agencies in Indiana as well as the tribes which hold an interest in the lands of Indiana. This effort to work hand in hand with the tribes to establish beneficial working relationships is wholeheartedly appreciated and will make working together on future projects much more rewarding.

Respectfully,

Logan Pappenfort

FROM THE ENROLLMENT OFFICE

Is your State Certified Birth Certificate on file in the Enrollment Office?

The Enrollment Office is continuing to update all tribal membership files. Many members have already sent in their state certified birth certificates. To comply with Federal guidelines and be eligible for a CDIB card, issued through the BIA, a state certified birth certificate is required. Reminder; state certified birth certificates must show, state file number, state seal, state registrars signature and parentage. If you are unsure if you have a state birth certificate on file please call the Enrollment Office. If you need assistance in acquiring one please contact State Vital Records Department in the state you were born and they will assist you in how you can acquire one.

Is your name updated in your membership file?

The Enrollment Office will be glad to assist any member who needs to have their name changed. If your name has changed please update your file to your current legal name. Please bring or send in your legal documentation (such as marriage license, court order, etc.) and the name change process can begin. If you are receiving the tribal newsletter with a previous name listed on the address label, please call the Enrollment Office for assistance or send your legal documentation (i.e. marriage license, court order, etc.) so the name change process can begin. It has been observed, the postal service has been returning newsletters and other miscellaneous correspondence sent from the Tribe if a persons name does not match their postal record. The process to update your name is not an immediate event. Please update your name before a need arises as the process takes the same amount of time whether there is a need or a want for a name change.

Missing or Change of Address

We still have several members (787) listed on the whereabouts unknown list. Any and all help is appreciated in finding these members. Several members have contacted the office with an update of family members. When the Enrollment Office receives a telephonic or electronic address change, the Enrollment Office will send a change of address form to the missing member with a request for completing the change of address form. Once the Enrollment Office receives the original, signed, completed form, the address is updated and the form is placed in the members file for accuracy. The Enrollment Office must have written permission from the tribal member, over the age of 18, or the legal custodial parent, for members under 18, on file for address changes. If you know someone who has moved or a tribal member household that is not receiving a newsletter please have them contact the Enrollment Office. If you would like to send the address form to them for their completion and return or an individual can download the form from the Peoria Tribe website www.peoriatribes.com a person should; go to Programs, then to Enrollment. Under the Enrollment section there will be a change of address form highlighted in red, open the form, print the form out, have the individual (of over 18) or legal custodial parent (if under 18) to sign and return to the Enrollment Office.

For your convenience, a change of address form has been placed in the newsletter. The address for returning the form is:

Peoria Tribe of Indians of Oklahoma

Attn: Enrollment Office

Thank you to all who have and will assist in this ongoing endeavor. All help is valued.

Below are sections of the Enrollment Ordinance of which the questions or information are typically asked.

Section 2. If a member of another tribe wishes to become a member of the Peoria Tribe, they must first relinquish all membership with other Federally recognized tribes.

Section 8. Each enrollment application must be completed in its entirety and must contain sufficient information to determine the applicant's eligibility for enrollment. Applicants must list the following on enrollment applications: all names by which the applicant has been known, applicant's current mailing address, name and notarized affidavit confirming applicant is not enrolled with any other Federally recognized tribe, and signature of the applicant or signature of the person filing the application on behalf of the applicant.

Section 9. Applications for enrollment must be accompanied with a State certified birth certificate. Applications received without a State certified birth certificate will not be processed. The following must be visible on State certified birth certificates:

State Seal

State File number

State Registrar's signature

State certified birth certificates must also be recorded with the State Vital Records Division of the state of birth. The following documents are not acceptable when accompanied with enrollment applications:

Hospital birth certificates

Baptismal certificate (even when parents' names are shown)

Heirship records

County abstracts

Approval of birth certificates issued by foreign nations or other highest-ranking governmental sub-division with jurisdiction to issue birth certificates will be at the discretion of the Enrollment Committee.

Section 18. Changes to active membership records, such as name changes due to marriage or divorce, must be made by legal documentation (i.e. marriage license, divorce decree, court order, etc.). Active members with change of addresses and other status information must notify the Enrollment Office at P.O. Box 1527, Miami, OK 74355 or by telephone at 918-540-2535 or 1-800-259-9987. Maintenance and accuracy of membership record data is the sole responsibility of each tribal member. Each tribal member is personally accountable for correct membership record information (i.e. contact information and/or name changes). The Tribal Enrollment Office will review changes to membership records to be forwarded to the Enrollment Committee; the Enrollment Committee shall certify its recommendation of approval to be approved by the Peoria Business Committee. Changes to membership records must ultimately be passed by resolution from the Business Committee and submitted to the Miami Area Agency, Bureau of Indian Affairs.

If I can be of any assistance please call (918) 540-2535 or (800) 259-9987.

Up to five scholarships will be awarded annually in future years, and the University plans to actively recruit students from NEO.

STOP YELLING — TO GET YOUR KIDS TO LISTEN

Did you know that you can stop yelling to get your kids to listen? They will even start telling you more and really talking to you. Why? Rules were set in place from Day One. If they broke a rule, they lost a privilege. The same principle stands in the ‘regular’ world. If our kids break a rule, they lose a privilege – maybe electronics or a play date. The idea is to let them take ownership in a real way to help them achieve success and desire to do so. THIS WILL WORK IN YOUR HOME, TOO. You aren’t yelling – you are letting your child take part in what happens and the consequences speak for themselves.

Now let’s talk about what DOES NOT WORK: yelling.

Yelling stems from loss of control. It happens to most of us at some point. Yelling stems from irritation and frustration. Talking to your kids, in a calm manner, will get you SO much further than yelling. It will let you have a relationship with back and forth conversation. Here are some questions to ask yourself: What is it the causes you to yell?

Toys being left out?

Shoes on in the house?

Repeatedly asking them to clean their rooms?

When this feeling to yell arises, try these suggestions instead:

1- Remember that if you yell- they will yell. “Monkey see, Monkey do.”

If you want to see your child lose control in frustrating situations, you just have to do it yourself. If you want to see your child remain calm and collected and face a problem like an adult- you have to do it.

2. Whisper to get their attention.

Crazy, right?! I used to do this ALL THE TIME when I taught. When the kids would become too loud, I didn’t want to yell over their voices, so I would whisper. I do this now, as a mom. It causes them to stop whatever they are doing to REALLY LISTEN to what you have to say. It makes everyone a little calmer.

3- Let their natural consequences speak for themselves.

If a toy is lost or broken because it was left out, don’t replace it. If they don’t get to go outside because they didn’t do chores, don’t “give in”. Remember- the rules are made and you don’t have to bend them. Don’t even let anyone know that this CAN be done.

One time, we ate in a different room of the house and our son asked me “Mom- are you sure we can do this? I don’t think we should be eating in this room.” They had no idea that I set the rule up in the first place, because it was just never questioned.

4- They are children.

Remember this and then remember it again. They are a child. Try to remember back to when you were a child. Our decisions as a child are not always good ones and we need to use all of these moments as teachable moments.

5- Don’t worry about “The Jones’.”

I see and hear parents all of the time that will say “I just wish that I was more like ____” but you need to remember that everyone has their struggles. No one’s life is as perfect as they show on Facebook. Seriously. We all lose our tempers at some point (which brings us to #6)

6- Just say “I’m Sorry”

If I feel like I stepped out of line and the punishment didn’t fit the crime (example: Lose electronics for a week because they didn’t make their bed today) I will just say “I’m sorry. I went overboard today. I shouldn’t have yelled like that. I thought about it, talked to Daddy, and we decided that two days is plenty, but you also have to do an extra chore today to make up for the one that I had to do for you.”

7- Talk TO your child, not AT your child.

As I was stating above, the best thing that you can do for your child is to sit down and talk to them. It makes a difference once your child is old enough. If I can just talk to our kids and say “The way that you are acting is making me really sad. I just don’t understand why you would do that. What should I do about it if this happens again? Do you think I should have you write an apology note to your brother? Or maybe you should do one of his chores? I always think of you as being such a sweet boy and I just can’t imagine that you would intentionally hurt his feelings. Is something else going on? Can you please try to work on being the nice boy that I know you are?” (a little reverse psychology doesn’t hurt, either!)

Yelling is not a TERRIBLE thing, so don’t feel bad right now if you are reading this and thing “Oh no. I yelled today.” The reason I say this is that I don’t want our kids to never hear any yelling or voice raising, because then when they do hear it from a coach or something and they are very scared or nervous from it, that isn’t a good thing! I do, however, want it to be limited.

As my mom says: “When you know better... you do better.” July 7, 2015 By Becky (Your Modern Family)

ARE YOUR KIDS “ZONING OUT” WHEN YOU TALK?

1. State only what needs to be done.

Instead of: “You are being so messy! Your shoes are all over the floor! Who do you think is going to come over and clean them up?”

Try: “Shoes belong in the basket, please.”

2. Talk less.

Instead of: “You need to wear your coat today, because it is cold and we wear them in the cold. You know this already.” Try: “COAT”

3. Start with “when you”

Instead of: “If you get your coat on, we will leave” Try: “When you get your coat on, we will leave.” This lets your child know that you are expecting him/her to put their coat on and they are going to rise to meet that expectation.

4. Try YES in place of NO without changing your rules.

Instead of: “No! You can’t go to her house to play. You only did one question from your homework, even after I told you to do the whole page.” Try: “Sure! Just show me your whole page of homework so I can check it before you go.”

5. Compliment them.

When they listen to you, give a simple compliment. Yesterday I told all four of the kids “head upstairs for bath time” and only one son went upstairs the first time. When he later went into his room, he found his iPod on his bed, with a note that said “5 minutes of iPod time before bed, for listening when I asked you to go upstairs.” His brothers heard him say “AWESOME!” and came to see the reason. When they saw, they said “Oh man! We should have come up faster. Next time I am going to do it.” Ps- I would happily give out 5 minutes of screen-time for good behavior during bath/bedtime, because that is certainly our most hectic time of the day. Plus, having each of them in their own beds playing for a few minutes allows me to put our two year old to bed quietly, knowing that they are safe and waiting for me.

6- Change their behavior without yelling.

I tell the parents, that I see for work, that yelling is not the answer. You can change their behavior through so many other avenues of parenting. Maybe a tight hug from behind will be enough of a distraction and provide enough sensory stimulation to have them change their attitude. Maybe a quick walk outside with the kids is all that they need to stop the negative behavior. Try sitting down with them to read a book, when you feel so angry that you want to yell. Oftentimes, their negative behavior comes from lack of time with you, so try to do something (other than yelling) to combat that.

7- Give consequences that happen now.

Think of a dog for a minute- when they have an accident in the house, we don’t clean it up and then an hour later tell them “No peeing in the house!” We do it then & there. A child (people, in general) are really not much different in that aspect. If they are misbehaving, a consequence of “tomorrow you will not go to your friend’s house” will not be understood as much as you saying “Give me that toy, right now. You have lost it because you were talking mean. I’m sad that you decided to talk that way and lose your turn with the toy.” (note: now you are telling them that THEY picked to lose the toy with their actions).

8- When you give a consequence, make it fit the crime.

We tell our kids things for a reason “Don’t play with the Christmas tree or you could break the ornaments.” So then if they play with the tree and an ornament falls off and breaks, we saw it coming. Instead of yelling, like you may want to do, you could tend to the mess (with the child’s help) and then talk to the older child: “Do you remember when I told you not to play with the tree? Why would I tell you that? So then you can see how you broke something by not listening? Now I am going to need you to do more chores, to earn $5 to pay me back for the ornament.” Explaining things to your child will go a long way, too.

9. Read between the lines.

When our kids misbehave, it usually boils down to one of two things:

A- Screen time (too much screen time usually causes misbehavior. We have one of our “No technology weeks” (sometimes two weeks in a row... like right now in our house) and it changes their attitudes. I love it! By day three, they have stopped asking if they can play on their iPods or watch their favorite YouTube shows (which is normally one about Minecraft)

B- Not enough one on one time. When one of our kids needs attention, they show us in many ways. Acting up is just one of them. An hour game of two-person catch is usually the perfect solution.

10. Talk about it... again.

When we tuck our kids in at night, we always go over things. “Today, you said “No” when I told you to pick up your toys. I know that you did it when I asked a second time, but I never want to have to do that again. When I ask you to do something, it is for good reason and I was upset that you talked back to me that way. Do you understand?” etc...

Our kids really all need to be heard, but to be spoken to in a kind way. They don’t want to be yelled at any more than we want to be yelled at. August 1, 2015 By Becky (Your Modern Family)

Indian Child Welfare

Indian Child Welfare services for the Peoria Tribe of Indians of Oklahoma are available to all enrolled tribal members and, in most cases, to those who are eligible for enrollment.

The Indian Child Welfare Program (ICWP) is located in the Programs Office building. If you should need our services, please feel free to contact us there. The office number is 918-540-2535. You can ask for Doug Journeycake, Director, (Ext. 19 or Cell 918-540-4370).

Lack of Tribal Foster Homes is still an issue for the Tribes. If you are interested in becoming a Tribal Foster Home and want to open your heart and home to children in need, contact the ICWP now. You can give children a chance to have a new and better life. There are many rewards of being a foster parent as well as the wonderful results for the Tribe's children. The process is relatively simple, you fill out an application, and we will do a thorough Federal and State background check on anyone over 18 years of age living in the home. We will require you to provide four personal references that the Indian Child Welfare Program (ICWP) will contact, and then the Indian Child Welfare Director or his designated representative will do a home visit in your home. Once that process is completed, the Indian Child Welfare Program will license your home as a tribal foster home. Additionally, the Department of Human Services (DHS) has a critical need for tribal foster homes to provide homes for Indian Children in state custody.

The Tribe is fortunate that it has very few ICW cases. Tribal members should be proud of themselves and their family members, as this sets a standard that is hard to meet by the other Tribes in the area.

We have had a very special visitor, 8 time B.A.S.S. tournament champion Edwin Evers. He came for a visit and toured our hatchery to help us promote it and get the word out that we are open for business. We have partnered with the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation and the Grand River Dam Authority to stock Grand Lake O' the Cherokees and Lake Hudson with the native strain Smallmouth that we raise in our hatchery. These fish will be released right before the B.A.S.S. Classic Championship is held on Grand Lake O' the Cherokees. This will give the Tribe great publicity for the services that we provide at the hatchery.

The Peoria Tribe Aquatic Facility will have a booth at the 2016 Bassmaster Classic Expo, March 4-6, 2016 in Tulsa, Oklahoma, to showcase our facility and other projects that we have going on at the Environmental Department.

“The Bassmaster Classic provides Rigid an unparalleled opportunity to immediately connect with a large target audience. The ability to display our products in the Expo, show real world applications at the launch and connect consumers with our sponsored athletes on the world's largest stage, made the Classic one of our most successful events ever.” — Dave Davis, VP of Sales, Rigid Industries,
